"NOT GUILTY"—FORMER MINISTER OF EDUCATION CHARGED WITH THEFT OF $5,820 FROM GOVERNMENT IS FREE MAN

Edmonton, Feb. 6.—At twenty-five minutes to eleven last night, after the jury had been deliberating for nearly five hours on their verdict, George P. Smith, former minister of education in the Alberta Liberal government, charged with the theft of $5,820 from the province, walked from the court a free man.

In the deep silence which prevailed, the court room crowded to the doors, the jury filed in from their quarters and a moment later Mr. Justice Ives took his place on the bench.

After the names of the jury had been called by Clerk Sullivan, they were asked if they had arrived at a verdict.

"We have," replied the foreman, J. I. Mann of this city.

"Do you find the prisoner at the bar guilty or not guilty?"

"Not guilty."

No Comment From Mr. Justice Ives

The momentous announcement was received in silence and there was no demonstration by personal friends of the accused who were present in large numbers.

"Are you agreed on the finding as announced by your foreman?" asked the Clerk and the reply was, "We are."

After a pause of a moment more

TRAIN SERVICES WILL NOT BE CHANGED TILL BOARD INVESTIGATES

An announcement has been made from the C. P. R. general offices that there will be no interference with the existing train service on any of the south lines at the present time. This will be welcome news as concern was universal over the probable situation, should the services be reduced to tri-weekly trains.

Orders to annul the previously announced schedule, fixed to go into effect February 15, have been received.

The service on the Crow line east will stand, also, pending a decision by the Board of Railway Commissioners.

In connection with the proposed reduction on the Cardston and Couta lines, it is learned that Inspector J. W. Reid of the railway trade commission staff, Calgary, will make an investigation this week, meeting town councils, boards of trade and other bodies in an effort to learn the facts bearing on the situation.

The tension to which all lines of business have been subjected following the announcement of train reductions last week has been relieved, at least temporarily.

He asked the jurors to confine their attention to essentials and disregard extraneous matter which might divert attention from the main issue. Witnesses had been attacked on their credibility but this should not be allowed to obscure the main issue.

The Charge Itself

Mr. Smith then turned his attention to the charge itself. He referred to the high position in the province occupied by the accused in 1921 and said the question which the jury had to answer was "Did the accused, George P. Smith, set the machinery in motion by which the province was mulcted of $5,820 and did he get the money?" If the jury so found then there could be only one verdict.

"Neither Esdale, Scott or Jeffery is on trial," said the counsel. The charge of conspiracy was drawn in the cases of Esdale and Jeffery and the accused had been given the same treatment. While all three may have conspired, Smith was in fact the person who got the money. With respect to "donations" or other charges that may arise there had been no stay of prosecution.

Review of Evidence

Mr. Smith then passed on to briefly review the evidence. He described Esdale as a man whose intentions might have been of the best, a man worried, possibly buried in the depths of business striving as best he could in the witness box to tell the truth. And he would point out this fact—that his statements in each high place were borne out by documentary evidence which is the best, as it is internal.

MURDER AT LETHBRIDGE

Lethbridge, Feb. 11.—A young man, apparently 19 or 20 years of age, whose identity is still unknown, was killed shortly after three o'clock this morning in the hallway of the residence of Const. Carr of the Alberta provincial police, 817 Sixth Street South.

Death occurred shortly after a bullet fired from what is believed to have been a carbine army rifle, had entered the back of his head. The shot was fired by a third man, the murderer, who is still at large.

Stolen Gun Found on Victim

The shooting took place while Const. Carr was grappling with his unknown assailant, the bullets coming from the outside of the house through the half-open door. The gun found on the man was stolen, the police have learned.

THE EMPRESS THEATRE -- CURRENT ATTRACTIONS

When the term "all star" were not so often misused and abused, so that it has practically lost its pristine glory, it would be a temptation to apply it to the notable cast of screen and stage players Director Herbert Brenon has assembled for the proper interpretation of the Song and Dance Man, the cinema version of George M. Cohan's distinguished Broadway comedy success. Which will be at the Empress Monday and Tuesday.

Tom Moore, whose Irish smile and finished acting have won him an enviable following, portrays the title role of "Happy" Farrell, a generous, egotistical, vaudeville, who through trials, tribulations and triumphs provide most of the pathos and humor in this sentimental story of backstage life. This is the role made famous by Mr. Cohan in the stage version.

Bessie Love, the diminutive film favorite and the screen's foremost exponent of the "Charleston," is happily cast as the small time performer who eventually wins fame and fortune in the musical comedy field.

Harrison Ford, popular leading man, is the third featured member of the cast, as the likeable and wealthy artist who falls in love with Miss Love, and succeeds in persuading her that home and children are to be preferred to the glitz and tinsel of a bright light career.

Stagedom is represented in this production by some of its most outstanding artists. Norman Trevor plays the part of the big-hearted, whole-souled theatrical producer; Bobby Watson gives an excellent account of himself as a typical "song and dance man"; George Nash looks and acts the part of a chief of detectives; William B. Mack, in his sonneteer's role as Josephine Drake is the boarding house keeper to the life; and Helen Lindroth and Jane Jennings are excellent in a couple of motherly roles.

COHAN STAGE HIT FILMED BY BRENON—"SONG AND DANCE MAN" OPENS AT EMPRESS; MOORE, BESSIE LOVE IN CAST

When George M. Cohan wrote and produced the "Song and Dance Man," his object was merely to present and portray sympathetically a distinctive theatrical type—the typical, small-time vaudeville trouper. However, Paul Schofield, who adapted this stage success to the screen, and Herbert Brenon, who directed it, have broadened the scope of the story considerably.

The film version, coming to the Empress Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, not only mirrors the trials and tribulations of the song and dance man, but faithfully reproduces the whole colorful life of the theatre, even to the actual backstage operations during a performance.

A more competent and experienced personnel could hardly have been gathered together than that which Mr. Brenon has selected. Tom Moore is happily cast in the title role, which Mr. Cohan portrayed in the stage version. Bessie Love is the ideal choice for the ambitious little actress who achieves musical comedy stardom on Broadway, and Harrison Ford does the best work of his career in the part of the wealthy artist. Norman Trevor, "Bobby" Watson, William B. Mack and Josephine Drake are some of the popular stage favorites who round out the strong line-up.

Director Brenon, who in his early years was a vaudeville performer, knows the theatre from the inside

MUSCOLINI IS VERY WARLIKE; RAPS GERMANS IN HIS SPEECH

Rome, Feb. 8.—Premier Mussolini, in his speech in the chamber Saturday against the alleged anti-Italian campaign carried on in the Reich, denied allegations that the Italians had removed the monument of the German poet Walter, at Bolzano, formerly Bozen, in Tyrol. He caused much laughter by declaring that although Herr Walter's poetry was quite mediocre, his monument was still standing.

The premier then made the suggestion that the Italian people, by public subscriptions, erect a monument at Bolzano to Cesare Battisti, the Italian patriot, who was executed by the Austrians during the great war. The suggestion has spread quickly through the nation, spurred on by the premier's statement that he would be one of the first subscribers to a national fund, and the Fascist deputies subscribing ten lire each. The intention is to keep the subscriptions within the reach of the poorest citizen.

German Perturbed

Berlin, Feb. 8.—There is much perturbation and no little ill-feeling in Germany over the speech delivered Saturday afternoon in the chamber of deputies in Rome by Premier Mussolini with regard to anti-Italian campaign alleged to have been propagated by Germans in the upper Adige.

Also, the German government has made no reply, pending receipt of the text of the speech. The utterances of Mussolini are considered the strongest used by any statesman since the war towards a country with which his country is at peace.

Mussolini's Threat

Particular attention is being paid to Mussolini's threat after characterizing the alleged German anti-Italian campaign as "heinous, ridiculous and lying," that sometimes it is necessary to pay with both eyes for the loss of one and with a whole set of teeth for the loss of one tooth.

Also his remark that "Fascist Italy can, if necessary, carry further beyond its tri-color, but never lower it," is regarded in some quarters as a direct threat that the Italians may move forward into Austrian territory if such a step should be considered necessary.

Mussolini at the time was referring to the Italian position at the Brenner Pass, which is on the Austro-Italian frontier, and is the shortest route from Central Germany into Italy.

The perturbation here has been added to by the receipt of comment from the Italian newspapers, some of which assert that Mussolini's words were almost equivalent to a declaration of war against Germany.

Rome, Feb. 8.—Premier Mussolini's speech in the chamber Saturday warning Germany against an anti-Italian campaign, must not be interpreted as a bugle call to a new war, declares the Messaggero, but as the language of a race which will tolerate no offenses.

"The new Italy desires peace in Europe, as was shown at Locarno where she willingly guaranteed the Rhine frontier," the paper continues. "But the situation of Locarno does not place her under the necessity of enduring provocations without protest or tolerating offenses without reaction."

HOTELMEN SEEK RIGHT TO SELL BEER BY BOTTLE

Edmonton, Feb. 8.—Beer by the bottle, uniform closing hours, and the right to keep beer parlors open on election days after the polls have closed, were the trio of requests laid before the government Monday morning by a delegation from the Alberta Hotelmen's association. Not much hope was held out by Premier Brownlee that these changes in the liquor act would be made, and he even suggested that the request be withdrawn.

H. W. Lunney of Calgary, solicitor for the association, was spokesman, and stated that there has been a strong demand from the public for the privilege of buying beer at hotels to be consumed off the premises. The public, he declared, are dissatisfied with the present method, for a great many people want to be able to take home a few bottles with them and are continually asking the hotelmen to supply them in that way.

Closing Hours

That the hotels are at disadvantage as compared with clubs in respect to closing hours was claimed in support of the second request. They are required to close at 10 p.m., whereas the clubs keep open to 11, with the result that hotel customers sometimes go from the hotels to the clubs, where business continues for another hour.

The premier suggested that this might be remedied by making 10 o'clock the closing hour for all, but the delegation thought 11 would be better.

Commissioner R. J. Dinning explained that the board now has a new regulation being drafted which will require all rural clubs to close at 10 p.m., and which will prohibit the sale of beer to customers at the clubs unless they live within a 15-mile radius. The city clubs will not be affected.

The privilege of keeping licensed premises open on election day after the voting is done would be a return, it was pointed out, to the system under the old act.

Brownlee Still Opposed

Premier Brownlee in giving his answer to the delegation, said he thought it unfortunate that they were pressing for the changes at the present time, as the effect might be that other demands would follow which would complicate the situation considerably. The request for beer by the bottle was the same as discussed in the legislature last year, and his personal opposition as then expressed still holds.

To have the beer parlors open on election days, as requested, would be particularly dangerous, the premier thought, and in that way more could be done in one night to discredit the act than by any other change that could be made. He was of the opinion that the hotelmen should consider their requests, but if still desirous of pressing them he would see that they were given a mention in council.

THE MEDICAL PROFESSION AND ADVERTISING

Action of the General Medical Council of Great Britain in striking two practitioners off the register on the charge of "infamous conduct," has started a controversy which has found its way into Parliament, and which may, before it is finished, have the effect of shattering cherished traditions of professional etiquette and procedure.

One of the offenders punished by the Council was Dr. Lloyd, whose "infamous conduct" appears to have been advertising himself through the medium of a letter published by a grateful patient.

Commenting on the case the Times says, "To brand him as being guilty of 'infamous conduct' for so acting seems, to say the least of it, an extraordinary proceeding. Has the General Medical Council ceased to be able to discriminate between professional and public interests?"

The Morning Post pointedly observes, "The whole point of the discussion is whether or not the General Medical Council, in the exercise of its jurisdiction, prevents that free communication between the profession and the public which is in the interest of the public."

The general attitude of the London press is, that the public health is a matter of such supreme importance that the medical profession should freely communicate the results of their experience and research through the medium of the press whenever they feel that it is in the public interest so to do.

The General Medical Council takes the position that the lifting of the ban on advertising would provide quacks with a golden opportunity to exploit a gullible public; people are, they say, lamentably credulous in matters pertaining to health. This is true; people are credulous because they are ignorant, and there is no other branch of knowledge so resolutely preserved in the shades of mystery as is medical science.

The only way by which mankind can be guarded against quackery in religion, politics, economics, as well as in medicine, is the widest possible diffusion of knowledge, and the press offers the best medium for this purpose.

POISONS AND FEAR

Swedish scientists have determined, says a cable dispatch, that a patient can be placed under hypnosis and given certain suggestions after which ordinarily potent poisons will have no effect on him.

This proves that the mind, properly attuned, can actually repel the destructive effects of physical poisons.

A wide use of this scientific principle will eradicate about 50 per cent of the ailments from this earth.

The most destructive poison that ever enters the human mind is fear.

Even in the case of infectious diseases, fear plays a very noxious part. For instance, a certain number of typhoid germs may not kill a man. But the same number of typhoid germs, plus fear, probably will kill him.

It is in the case of neurotic diseases, however, that the new principle has widest application.

The conscious mind functions as a sort of strainer for the subconscious mind. Some suggestion is thrown into the brain. If the conscious mind is functioning normally, that suggestion is weighed and judged by reason before it settles into the intellect.

In the case of the neurotic or neurasthenic, the conscious mind has temporarily lost its ability to judge these suggestions. It does not regard life from a normal angle. Therefore all sorts of wild notions pass on into the mind.

A suggestion, for instance, comes to the patient that he has heart disease, that he is going to faint, that he is going insane.

The neurotic mind, incapable of realizing that these suggestions are manifestly absurd, allows them to pass on into the brain cells. And then these fearful obsessions become a hideous part of the patient's life. He is the victim of fear.

If hypnosis or suggestion, which is simply applied psychology, can render a man immune to actual physical poisons, applied psychology can render a man immune to the greatest poison of all—fear.

THE ASHES OF AMBITION

The ashes of Hugo Stinnes lie forgotten in an urn in the empty room of a closed house in Berlin.

The splendid mausoleum which the daring financier intended should enshrine his mortal remains will never be built. The huge fortune Stinnes had accumulated, not enough now remains to provide a tomb for his ashes.

But even without a memorial of marble and bronze, Stinnes will not be forgotten, at least for a generation. Millions of impoverished people will not soon forget the disastrous result which attended his efforts to achieve his selfish ambition.

He was a financial pirate, and watched, unmoved by compassion, his victims walk the plank to disappear into a sea of misery and destitution. He and his associates made a plaything of the natural currency, and, by their blundering greed and reckless expansion have plunged into a deplorable state of social and industrial distress.

The number of unemployed has reached three million, only one quarter of the industrial plants are operating, and the prices of stocks and securities have dropped to such a low level that the Berlin Bourse is the scene of almost daily panics.

Stinnes' gigantic projects have failed. They might have succeeded, and his fame as a great promoter would have made his fame synonymous with financial genius. The glare of success would have blinded the world to the unjust methods employed in the operations. But monstrous projects are the peculiar sport of monstrous circumstance.

ST. DAVID'S DAY BANQUET

The strength of the Society this year has been much augmented and the arrangement of the musical program has been placed in the capable hands of Miss Margueretta Williams L.A.B. and Mr. J. The Welsh Glee Party under the conductorship of Mr. J. Rhys Jones and the Mixed Octette which received such an ovation last year, will also be features. Community Singing of Welsh songs will be added as an innovation under the leadership of Mr. George Evans.

Mr. Leonard W. Brockington is arranging for outstanding speakers, whose names will be published later, this preliminary notice being a reminder to Welshmen all over the Province to keep this date vacant for the Welsh Re-union in commemoration of their Patron Saint, St. David, it being hoped that all Welsh people in Alberta will avail themselves of the opportunity of celebrating this day with their fellow countrymen in Calgary.

BUY AT HOME SPEND YOUR MONEY IN MACLEOD

Purchases representing thousands of dollars are lost to us, to our trade, to our clerks and employees, to our laborers and artisans, to all the people of Macleod who exist on the products of their work. This money, if spent at home, would help to recreate Macleod financially, give a wider field of activities in business, would be helpful to every resident of this town.

If we purchased regularly from local merchants, this money would circulate in Macleod in a welcome manner. Our merchants merit our patronage; it is to our interest, and the duty of all of us to encourage the local merchant. He is one of us, he lives among us, he has the right to be encouraged by us, he is anxious to have our custom, and to give us satisfaction. We should under all circumstances give him preference, price for price, quality for quality. And nearly always the price that our local merchant asks is, if we compare the quality, just as cheap as that of the outside merchant.

Never purchase merchandise by catalogues from foreign houses before assuring yourself that you cannot procure the same articles, of the same quality (and frequently of better quality) at the same price from your local merchant.

Want Coal Rates Inquiry
A determined effort to secure an inquiry by the railway commission into the question of freight rates on Alberta coal to Ontario and other eastern points, will be made by the Provincial Government. Under instructions from Premier Brownlee, S. B. Woods, special counsel for the government and A. Chard, traffic supervisor, have left for the east and will take up the question of the inquiry with the Ontario government and fuel commission, with a view to making an appeal for an order for the inquiry. The general freight rates investigation will open this month.

New Official Named
Dr. A. E. Braithwaite, well-known Edmonton physician, has been named by the provincial government as chief coroner for the cities of Edmonton and Calgary. Dr. Braithwaite will also act as inspector of hospitals. The announcement has been made by Hon. Geo. Hoadley, minister of health, states that Dr. Braithwaite will not interfere with the work or powers of existing coroners, but will have power to make further investigation wherever thought advisable, and in addition to his duties in the two cities, will go, as occasion may require, to any point in the province.

Further Survey of Southern Areas
Further surveys of certain areas in the south east of the province with a view to making these more productive will be made by a special board named by Premier Brownlee, and which will co-operate with the federal government in this work. The members of the board are E. J. Meek of Calgary, and Z. McInroy, assistant deputy minister of agriculture.

High Average of Alberta Oil Wells
In comparison with the average production in other oil fields of the world, Alberta oil wells no longer show a high average. The Roylake well south of Calgary in the Turner Valley field, known as the world's richest oil well, is producing 400 barrels a day of almost pure naphtha, while wells in the Wainwright field east of Edmonton are producing from 80 to 100 barrels a day. This compares with an average of 6.59 barrels in 298,215 wells in the United States in 1924, with an average of 55.53 in California of 20.9 barrels in Texas, of 8.32 barrels in Oklahoma, of 20.63 in Montana Rocky Mountain area, of 41.84 in Wyoming.

Alberta Should be Represented
The desirability of having Alberta, as the largest producing province contributing to the western route, represented on the harbor board of Vancouver, is being urged upon the federal government by Premier Brownlee, who has sent telegrams to Hon. Chas. Stewart and all the Alberta members.

Join up with Dairy Pool
The members of the Edmonton Milk Producers association to the number of about 200, are the latest to signify their intention of joining up with the provincial dairy pool, it was decided last week at a meeting of the association.

Unclaimed Estates
According to a decision of the appellate court, unclaimed estates of those dying in the province since 1921 will go to the university, all other unclaimed estates accumulating between 1905 and 1921 going to the provincial treasury. It is estimated that estates to the value of between $75,000 and $100,000 will be affected.

Irrigated Unit Does Well
Crop returns from the Vauxhall irrigated unit of the Canada Land and Irrigation Co. tract, show that the total production value of the unit per acre in 1925 was $35.84. There was a total of 10,243 acres in crop in the unit, giving a total agricultural products value of $367,173.30.

Forage Crop Car Well Patronized
The forage crop car now being operated through southern Alberta by the provincial department of agriculture in co-operation with the C.P.R. is being well attended by farmers at every point. Seed of various forage crops is being distributed, and much benefit is expected to result from the operation of the car.

Short Course for Creamery Workers
A further three weeks' creamery course is now being offered jointly by the University and the Department of Agriculture, commencing Tuesday morning, February 23rd 1926, at 9 o'clock. The work of the course is being planned for people who have already had some practical experience in creamery work and who intend to again return to it. Lectures will be given each day during the course and will cover principles and methods in the production and handling of milk and cream; the testing, grading and quality basis marketing of cream and butter; the care and handling of the apparatus and equipment used in creamery operations and some aspects of our dairy legislation and organization.

ENJOYING HIS FIRST COON COAT

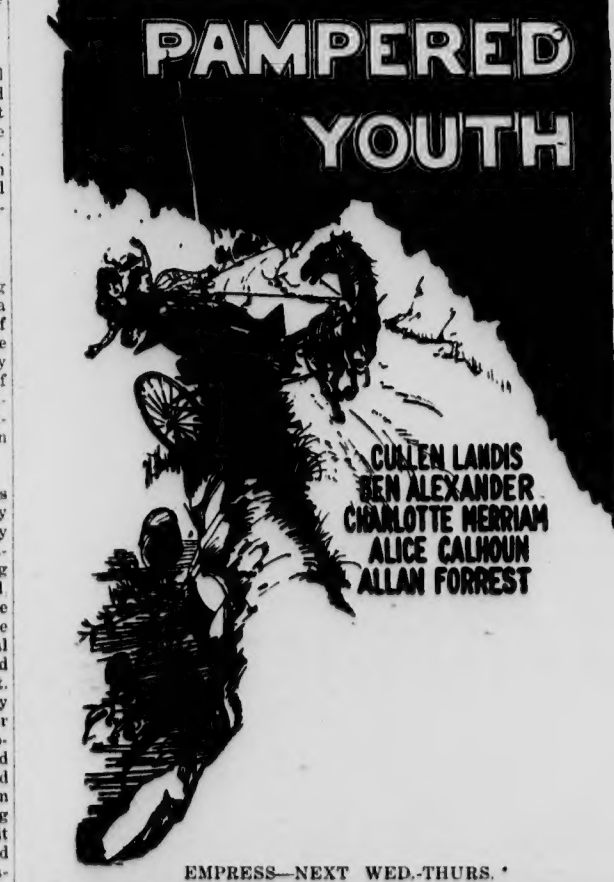

LORD WILLINGDON, prominent British statesman, who has been mentioned as a possible successor to Lord Byng as Governor-General of Canada, is now in the Dominion on his way to China on a mission for the British Foreign Office in connection with the Boxer indemnity. Lord Willingdon is seen here in a coon coat which he secured in Montreal and which he is thoroughly enjoying during his trip across Canada by Canadian National Railways in company with Lady Willingdon. During their visit to the Dominion, Lord and Lady Willingdon are being entertained by the Governor-General and the Lieutenant-Governors of Ontario and Manitoba, spending a day in Winnipeg, and a short time in Vancouver and Victoria before sailing for the Orient. They are accompanied on the rail journey by Mr. C. K. Howard, Canadian National general tourist agent.

Mrs. G. McComas returned home this week after a two weeks vacation in Lethbridge.

C. G. Culshaw, of the Government Waterways department, was a business visitor to Macleod on Monday last.

Hugh Mackintosh is in Edmonton attending the Annual Convention of the Alberta Fairs' Association, as a delegate from Macleod Agricultural Society.

F. J. Cutler and C. K. Underwood motored out to the T.M.B. Ranch on Wednesday last. The owners claim that this is the best winter for stock they have ever seen in the west, and all their cattle are looking fine. The S.S. brand is well known throughout the south.

A meeting of the Electors of the Municipal District of Bright, No. 69, will be held at Macleod at one o'clock in the afternoon, on Saturday, the 20th day of February, 1926, for the discussion of the affairs of the District and the Nomination of Candidates for the office of Councillors for Divisions 1, 2, and 3, and such nominations will be there and then received between the hours of three and four in the afternoon.

The Concert given by the Orton Concert Co., under the direction of J. W. Watkins drew a big house both at Orton and Monarch, and to say that everybody was more than pleased, would be putting it light. The chorus were exceptionally well balanced, the solo work, of Miss Silotto was well received and her singing speaks well for her as a coming singer of Alberta, also Mrs. Theat with her solo work was exceptionally nice. No space to give all personal notice, but all carried out the parts very creditably. Mr. J. W. Watkins is busy working on the Opraetta Cherry Blossom which he intends to give in Macleod and surrounding towns in the near future.

The I.O.O.F. St. Valentine Novelties Dance given in the Silver Grill Hall on Wednesday evening, February 10th, elicited the largest and most appreciative crowd of Terpsichorean enthusiasts that have congregated at a dance in Macleod for many moons. To say the affair was a success is scant praise; it was an extraordinary success from every viewpoint—the dancers had the time of their lives, and the management is to be congratulated on the smoothness which marked the arrangements from first to last. The I.O.O.F. Orchestra (J. Brenner, E. Charlton, G. Ringland, Bodey Webb and J. M. Paulson, furnished excellent music for the occasion. The prize winners in the Novelties Dances were: Fox Trot—Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Grier; Waltz—Mr. Cecil Hamilton and Miss Jean Poly;

MISS A. M. WILSON

WHEAT POOL NEWS

The following is an extract from the January 8th, 1926, issue of "The London Grain, Seed and Oil Reporter," published in London, England:—

"American interests are reported to be buying Manitoba wheat for milling in bond for export, which has become a feature of the Buffalo milling trade. There are also reports that the Wheat Pool is holding back Wheat in anticipation of higher prices. Traders appear to be fighting the Wheat Pool strenuously, and the breaks in the market are in part due to the speculative selling to bring down Pool prices, but so far this organization has managed to the market for actual Wheat."

The Alberta Wheat Pool has now 36,250 members and new Contracts are, of course, coming in on every mail. As new members join up their names are added to the membership list and an official acknowledgement is sent to each new member, advising him of his membership number and that he is a member and a shareholder in the Association. Once in a while a Contract goes astray in the mails and accordingly fails to reach Head Office. In such cases a farmer may consider himself in membership in the Pool, while the Pool has had no intimation that he has signed a Contract. Any new member who has signed a Contract with a canvasser or has sent in his own Contract, should write to Head Office if he does not receive an official acknowledgement of the receipt of his Contract within a reasonable time.

Farmers are also cautioned against signing a Contract and handing any money to a canvasser who is not known to them. In a case where there is any doubt about the credentials of a canvasser who
